Business

As you know, the business is for sale and we have interested parties who will hopefully be a good fit for the business. Your patience and help during this transition is important and we are doing our best to make sure orders are sent out on time while also trying to keep up with back orders. We have had some problems getting motors for our upholstery units, but hopefully have that worked out. We really are doing all we can here at the corporate office to keep up with all the work Cody took care of. It is amazing to all of us how he could keep so many irons in the fire at once.

Cody's Wish

Cody's wish was that the Heaven's Best business would continue and be a great opportunity for all involved. He always thought of others first. He loved being able to provide a living for people where they could work for themselves, choose their own hours and spend time with their families. He was honest and based the company on the principles of honesty and integrity. We hope to continue his legacy. Thanks for all your help and support.
