Staff Change in the Warehouse

As you know, the business is for sale and we have interested parties who will hopefully be a good fit for the business. Your patience and help during this transition is important and we are doing our best to make sure orders are sent out on time while also trying to keep up with back orders. We have had some problems getting motors for our upholstery units, but hopefully have that worked out. We really are doing all we can here at the corporate office to keep up with all the work Cody took care of. It is amazing to all of us how he could keep so many irons in the fire at once.
